C. A. MENET, Representative.

SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1909.

The wonder is, not that the bill authorizing a railroad company to take land at sight and pay for it after judicial adjustment of price, received only one vote in the House, but that it was favorably reported by the Judiciary committee. This committee has not "covered itself with glory" during the present session.

The Treasury deficit at the close of the fiscal year on June 30th, was less than predicted but still uncomfortably large. It was nearly $50,000,000, an increase of $15,000,000 in customs receipts, having made it less than advance estimates. Internal revenue receipts decreased about $5,000,000. Expenditures for the year aggregated $84,244,002, an increase of about $37,000,000. There are hopes that the fiscal year which has just commenced, will make a better showing, but increased tariff duties may lessen the customs receipts, while the heavy appropriations made by Congress at its last regular session will largely increase the expenditures.

Senator Bulkeley has heard from some of his constituents upon the corporate income tax proposition, and has evidently decided to break away from his blind following of Senator Aldrich and to vote against the measure. "It is the more easy for him to do because the Rhode Island Senator is decidedly lukewarm upon the proposed tax and evidently supports it only as a means of placating President Taft and inducing him to consent to the many increased tariff duties passed by the Senate at his (Aldrich's) instance. Mr. Aldrich's interest in all these questions is only temporary, for he plans to retire in 1911 and to enjoy life upon his fortune which is, by some, estimated at $5,000,000.

Mayor Lee has appointed Ex-Mayor Reynolds to the Board of Appraisal of Benefits and Damages. Recognition of the Ex-Mayor's services in the past—notably his approval of the twenty-year water contract—has been slow in coming, but it has finally come. It may be recalled that when Mayor Lee filled the previous vacancy on the board, there were charges that he thus violated a pledge to name Ex-Mayor Reynolds, that he denied having made such a pledge, and that Mr. Reynolds was reported as charging him with a deliberate falsification. The appointment just made may perhaps be taken to indicate that Mayor Lee has finally recalled the alleged pledge to memory. But this is comparatively unimportant at this time. The really important fact is that Mayor Lee has, in effect, approved the Ex-Mayor's action upon the water question.

Senator Root asserts that the corporate income tax is wise, just and constitutional, while an individual income tax would fulfill neither of these three desirable conditions. The average man is unable to understand the Senator's exceedingly fine distinction between the two taxes, but he can understand the Senator's argument that a general income tax would bring in so much money as to necessitate either the repeal of many protective duties or a heavy increase in expenditures in order to prevent the accumulation of a dangerously heavy Treasury surplus. There is a growing popular belief that very many of the tariff duties are oppressive and should be repealed, and also that a general income tax would equalize the burden of supporting the government and compel those who benefit most thereby, to bear a more equitable share.

It is somewhat surprising that Senators who have always "stood by" the big corporations, are now supporting the corporate income tax, unless it be that they prefer to tax the corporations rather than pay taxes upon their own incomes which, in quite a number of cases, dwarf their official salaries into comparative insignificance.

There has been, at different times since aerial navigation became a possible fact of the near future, some discussion of the right of way through the air, rules of the aerial road, etc. It has ever been assumed that a land owner holds a rightful title to the air space immediately over his land. Such being the fact, how could an aerial navigator use it without his consent and without paying for the privilege? A writer in the North American Review for July, Mr. Lyttleton Fox, discusses the subject intelligently and clearly, saying, in part:

The project of condemning the air, title in a sense novel, would be perfectly feasible from a legal standpoint. There is apparently no question as to whether or not the air is a highway. However, it would possess the rare quality of involving little or no expense, and the air stratum could be used as a highway with the most ambitious operations, six cents per mile to be full remuneration.

for the property taken from any individual owner for public purposes. The simple expedient of declaring the air to be a highway, by statute, without exercise of eminent domain, would hardly seem practicable in this country, as constituting a taking of property without due compensation, unless the courts hold, as suggested, that the air is already a public highway above the height of effective possession.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

Salt and vinegar are good to clean brass work.
Bags of heated salt are excellent to relieve neuralgia.
White pepper is preferable to black for seasoning chicken soup.
Crisp celery should be served with cold meat. It is a nerve tonic.
If a knife is slightly heated, it will cut bread and cake much more easily.
Flour sprinkled generously over suet will make the chopping process simpler.
Keep tacks in bottles. It saves opening many boxes to find a particular kind.
Except in extraordinary cases, every sick room should have some sunlight every day.
To keep cheese moist and fresh and free from mold, wrap in cloth wet with good vinegar.
To clean white paint, dip a cloth in hot water, then in bran and rub it. Rinse with cold water.
Fat will not burn if a crust of bread or piece of raw potato is placed in the kitchen with it.
When cleaning house use plenty of turpentine in the scrub water. It is certain death to moths.
In cutting garments that are sometimes better to fasten the pattern in place by weights instead of pins.
Left-over cereals need not be wasted. The fine excellent fried mush and eaten with syrup or honey.
A teaspoonful of glycerine, given in a wineglass of hot milk, will relieve a severe paroxysm of coughing.
Cheese wrapped in waxed paper and put in the refrigerator will keep for a week and look as if freshly cut.
To keep the tubes of mackerel from sticking together the water must be kept at a galloping boil, as with rice.
For washing coarse clothes, soft soap is the best and has the advantage of going further than yellow soap.
Oxalic acid in the proportion of one to twenty may be used to remove perspiration stains from wearing apparel.
Bacon fat may be saved and used to fry fish in. It gives the fish a good flavor and keeps it from falling apart.
If a tiny pinch of soda is put into a saucup in which fruit is being stewed less sugar will be needed to sweeten it.
Green lima beans boiled until they are nearly tender and then fried in butter are better than when merely stewed.
A little tin-ruler should be kept with every sewing outfit. It is much easier to use in measuring bands, hems and tucks, than tape.

Williams' Root Beer is easy to make and its goodness will amaze you. Enough for six, 2 cents. Make some now.

THE FINEST AND CHOICEST LOTS EVER OFFERED TO BRIDGEPORTERS.

Sound View. In this issue will be found an ad referring to this attractive building lot proposition, whereby one of the most beautiful tracts of land ever offered to the public is now open for the sale of lots. This property is high, dry and healthy, and stands on a view of the city of Bridgeport and Long Island Sound as can be found anywhere near Bridgeport. The site of the castle has been purchased recently by parties who will remodel the castle and make of it a beautiful home for themselves, taking in six or seven of the lots around it. It is but a short walk from the end of the Brooklyn trolley on North avenue, and a good place to go and get a cool breeze, and to view the surrounding scenery on the Fourth of July.

No doubt this land in the near future will materially advance in price, and those lots if you will take the time to look them over, you will find are beautifully situated. Every lot is to be graded and needs no filling, but is all ready now to build upon. A fine macadam road runs to this property, and one must see and look it over to appreciate what a lovely place it is. Anybody investing money in these lots cannot take any chances, as they are bound to advance at once. Go up on the Fourth and have a look for yourself. Terms are very easy and competition is not feared.
